Mexico

Total Mexican imports of poultry meat were revised downward for 2000 as the contraction in the domestic supply, caused by the Newcastle disease outbreak in northern Mexico, was not as large as had been expected. The Mexican Government (GOM), however, again allocated duty-free mechanically deboned meat (MDM) import levels substantially above the 2000 NAFTA tariff rate quota because of shortage in domestic production. This trend is expected to continue in 2001. The GOM, for example, allocated recently 31,000MT of turkey cuts and 79,800MT of MDM for the first half of 2001. The first-half of 2001 quota for turkey cuts is nearly equal to the NAFTA TRQ for the entire year, which is 34,436MT.

Retail sales of both locally produced whole turkeys and U.S. processed whole turkey, mainly smoked, were reportedly higher in the 2000 Christmas season compared to previous one. A main supermarket chain and a poultry processor imported approximately 160,000 raw, whole turkeys from Chile. Imports of poultry from Chile entered duty-free since Mexico-Chile Free Trade Agreement has been fully implemented since 1998.

On December 29, 2000, Mexico's Secretariat of Treasury (SHCP) announced that as of December 30, 2000, it would impose an estimated price system on imported poultry meat, salted or in brine, for the purpose of calculating the duty. Importers of poultry meat (salted or in brine) will have to deposit money in an account against the difference of the duty between the estimated price and the "export value" (including transportation costs and broker's fees) if the latter is lower.

In October 2000, U.S. and Mexican poultry and egg industries signed an agreement, with the idea of sharing markets between both counties instead of competing for the same markets. Under the agreement, the NAFTA Egg and Poultry Partnership (NEPP) will be created. The new international organization will work to strengthen communication and cooperation between the industries, advance mutual understanding, promote poultry and egg consumption and improve competitiveness. Industry sources estimate NEPP will likely be established formally during the first quarter of 2001.

Japan

Japan's broiler meat imports from Asia and Brazil in 2001 are projected at 550,000 MT, down 2% from last year, due to high year-beginning inventories, a weakening yen, and rising demand in EU for chicken meat due to BSE. However, imports of prepared chicken products from China and Thailand will continue growing this year due to intensifying competition in the fast food, take-out and convenience food market. Sales opportunities for U.S. broiler parts (mostly of bone-in leg), forecast at 95,000 MT in 2001, will hinge on Japanese processor demand for deboning cuts. In Japan's egg market, an anticipated rise in domestic egg production, coupled a weakening yen, will likely push processed egg product imports downwards in 2001.

Fiscal Year 2001 Poultry Export Forecast

Since the last forecast, poultry meat volume in fiscal year 2001 has been raised 100,000 tons, to 2.9 million tons based on continued strong sales to Russia, China, and Mexico.

U.S. Poultry	U.S. Poultry Meat Exports
-	FY2000	FY2001
Value in billion dollars	1.962	2.0
Volume in million metric tons	2.847	2.9

As of February 9, 2001, approximately 5,700 metric tons of poultry were committed for export under the Export Enhancement Program, with a total bonus value of nearly $3.6 million.

THIGH MEAT - FROZEN

NATIONAL YOUNG TURKEY PARTS AND BULK MEAT, FROZEN (UNLESS SPECIFIED), CENTS PER LB., DELIVERED FIRST RECEIVERS, PART AND FULL TRUCKLOTS AS OF 23 FEBRUARY 2001.

Undertone steady to instances firm on fresh tom breast meat with only limited trading noted at the higher offering prices. Domestic demand was the most active on white meat items, light to fair on the balance of items. Export demand was active for Russia and Eastern Europe with interest also noted for Asia, Africa and Mexico. Domestic trading was light on all items. Export trading was heavy on frozen 15-20% mechanically separated turkey and frozen thigh meat for March shipments. The balance of export trading was light and centered on wings and drums. Some livers traded at 17 cents delivered port.
